

UNIVERSITY of DENVER

OFFICE OF THE PROVOST AND EXECUTIVE VICE CHANCELLOR

August 12, 2021

Jesse Stommel
5632 S Curtice Street
Littleton, CO 80210

Dear Jesse:

The University of Denver is pleased to offer you an appointed position as a Teaching Assistant Professor, non-tenure track, in the Writing Program. This 9-month benefitted position is effective September 1, 2021, at an annual salary of $53,601. This position is governed by the University's Policies and Procedures Relating to Faculty Appointments, Promotions, and Tenure.

This contract is for three academic years and is governed by the University's "Policies and Procedures Relating to Faculty Appointments, Promotions, and Tenure." You have also been granted three years toward your promotion timeline, so will be reviewed for promotion to Teaching Associate Professor in the 3rd year of your contract, 2023-2024. Should this promotion be successful, you will be granted a five-year contract.

A valuable component of the compensation for this position is the University of Denver's Benefits Package. Details regarding this package are available at http://www.du.edu/hr/benefits/benefits\_summary.html. This website includes detailed information on our health, dental, disability, and life insurance plans, flexible spending accounts, tuition waiver benefits, tax-sheltered retirement plans, and other benefits. If you would like to contact our Benefits Office, the phone number is (303) 871-4287, the email is Benefits@du.edu

This offer is contingent upon your being a US citizen or permanent resident or having lawful authorization to work in the US. This offer could be withdrawn or the date of the appointment will be changed if you are not authorized to work at the University of Denver by the beginning of the 2021 Autumn Quarter. If you are not a US citizen or permanent resident and need assistance with obtaining permission to work at the University of Denver, please contact Laura Buhs, International Scholar Advisor, at 303-871-7861 or lbuhs@du.edu. The University also runs a background check on every employee. You will be contacted directly by HireRight to complete that process.

The faculty at DU is a committed group of scholars and teachers. We join them in warmly welcoming you as a colleague and valued member of our academic community. To accept this offer, please click on the "I accept" button in the application portal by August 20, 2021.

Sincerely,

Mary Clark
Provost and Executive Vice Chancellor

Jennifer Karas
Vice Provost for Academic Affairs
